

Blue Sky

Blue Sky is a 1 year old husky mix who weighs 44 pounds. We believe she's part Husky due to her strikingly beautiful blue eyes. She still has her puppy moments and loves to chew and play, she even tries to play with the foster's cat. Blue Sky is house trained and sleeps in a crate at night, but would prefer sleeping with her owner. She knows some basic commands and we think she has amazing potential for obedience and agility training. She would be best suited for an active family with respectful children 8 years or older, and probably more comfortable with another dog in the home. Blue Sky is a very sweet and loving dog, and loves to snuggle and cuddle with her people. She can be somewhat fearful and takes a little time to warm up, and can be fearful of loud noises. She does not like to be left in her crate alone for more than 3 hours at a time. Blue Sky is a beautiful and loving dog and will make the right family very happy.
