

Buster Boy

Buster Boy is a 6 month old very energetic boy who needs a family or person that can give him the attention and exercise he needs, as well as continuing training. He is a loving boy, smart and learns quickly. Buster absolutely needs a home with a fenced yard (not electric/invisible fence) and someone who does not need to leave him alone regularly long hours without human companionship and exercise. Buster is crate trained and is potty trained if someone is around to take him outside frequently. He loves attention, playing fetch and playing tug of war. He gets along with other dogs, but they need to be up to his exuberance. He is not a good fit for young children so an all adult home or one with children 7 or older is needed. We think Buster would be a great agility dog...once his adult brain kicks in 😊.
