

Loki

Hello humans, I am LOKI!! A pug/Chihuahua mix boy, 9 months old and weighing about 16 lbs. I am a little ball of energy!--I am a puppy after all. I am loving, affectionate, sweet and cuddly and will make you laugh. I love walks and going to day care a few hours a day. I love all humans and dogs. I don't know about cats. I sleep with my foster mom all cuddled up and don't move all night! I am potty trained as long as I get to go out regularly. I love my squeaky toys and I am happy playing with them and tossing them around all on my own! I follow my foster mom everywhere she goes.

I have not learned how to be okay with being left alone in the house...I become very stressed out (it's called separation anxiety) so I will need a person or family that has the time, patience and understanding to help me with that. My foster mom has been working on it with me-- I'm up to only a few minutes so far; so I go to doggy daycare when she cannot be at home with me...I LOVE doggy daycare!

I would love a family with another dog and older kids. A very securely fenced yard (not invisible/electric fence) is a must! And I know how to use a doggie door. But beware; if you aren't careful when you open the door, I will bolt outside...I'm very good at that.

If you think you are my human, please fill out an application and tell me all about you and how you can be my forever home.
