

Mya

This is Mya, an absolutely lovely 4 year old Husky girl that is looking for her forever home. She needs a home with at least a 6 foot fully secure fence, ideally wood (not invisible/electric fence). And she needs to be an ONLY pet because she doesn't do well sharing her humans' attention in the home. Mya is great with all people...she has not met a person she doesn't like, and while she's good with children, we think it's best if she lives in an all adult home or one with older respectful children. She CANNOT be homed with cats or small critters because her drive to chase and grab is too high. Mya adores human attention, so needs a home where she doesn't need to be left alone regularly for long hours. She's somewhat of a couch potato, but she enjoys walks, riding in the car. She also enjoys outings to the hardware store meeting people and their dogs—she is fine in public on leash greeting respectful dogs. Like most huskies, Mya often “talks”...especially scolding her humans when they return from leaving her home alone—it's kind of hilarious. Mya is not crate trained...she has escaped every crate she has been in, so crating her is not an option. But she does fine when left alone and is potty trained so there is no need for crating her.
