CHEW Dog Rescue is an all-volunteer, non-profit organization dedicated to rescuing abandoned dogs, dogs slated for euthanasia due to shelter space limitations, and other dogs who need us. Based out of Gig Harbor, our foster-based group has been able to rescue and save almost 1500 dogs in the 14 years we have been in operation. CHEW relies on the support of our community, donations and our local business partners. We are always looking for people willing to foster as that enables us to save more dogs. We place the dogs in well-vetted foster homes and get them any and all medical attention they need to become adoptable. Potential adopters are also vetted with home safety inspections and all references are contacted. Greet & Meets are conducted to ensure a good match for the dog and adopter, including any current dogs already in the potential adopter's home. If everything is a good match, an adoption then takes place.

For us, it's all about the dogs!

Foster care is the most crucial ingredient in dog rescue. Without available foster homes, many dogs will not be rescued. Becoming a foster is a fulfilling commitment yet extremely satisfying knowing that you've helped a dog get a second chance at life. CHEW mentors you through the entire foster process through your personal lead, covers all medical appointment costs and all tools and equipment you need to foster successfully.

Please consider fostering, you can save a dog's life.
